The personal information of users is protected by the laws of Québec and Canada. For information on user rights, visit the Commission d’accès à l’information du Québec website.
Privacy policy
Personal information is information that can be used to identify you. St. Lawrence Summits undertakes not to disclose any personal information from visitors of its Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram pages or Pinterest board, other than for legal reasons.

Use of personal information
The information collected on the www.sommetsdusaint-laurent.com website and via the Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Pinterest accounts with user consent and consigned to user files serves to send users paper or electronic documents, respond to their information requests, and forward reservations, product purchases, or service requests to suppliers. This information also serves to draw up mailing or survey lists and to determine user preferences and interests for the purpose of providing enhanced service in the future.

Disclosure of personal information
User requests may require personal information to be disclosed to suppliers or subcontractors (e.g., information may be provided to an organization in charge of sending documents or an establishment where a user wants to make a reservation). If users consent to their names being included on mailing or survey lists, disclosing their contact information to a subcontractor may also be required.
